An orientation meeting will be held on

Easter Season

Josef Pieper once remarked that all the human capacity for festivity arises from the ability to affirm all creation as good—from the ability to embrace in one resounding “yes,” the length and breath, the heights and depths of our experience in this world. We can hear this yes in Mozart’s music—the play of light and shadow in the later piano concerti; the poignant song of an oboe rising above a steady pulse in a divertimento for winds. We can hear it in the delighted squeals of a child as its face is licked by the moist tongue and hot breath of a new puppy. We can hear it in the contented, prayerful whispers of an elderly woman—full of love, grace and years—as she prepares to meet death with quiet courage and dignity.

Saying yes to all of life, letting all of it in—that is festivity’s sustaining source. But there’s a rub. Few of us can say yes to anything for very long. We live, after all, in an intensely mobile culture of fast food, faster cars, disposable diapers and planned obsolescence. Our greatest goal (as Andy Warhol once quipped) is to be famous for fifteen minutes. At parties, we do not carry on conversations, we posture—repeating to one another snippets of dialogue from movies, beer commercials, sitcoms, or interviews with sports celebrities. Small wonder that many in our society feel so isolated and lonely, so unable to connect, so incapable of forming relationships that last. Small wonder, too, that as a people we find ourselves increasingly bored, angry and violent—enraged and terrified by the awful emptiness that seems to stretch in every direction around us.

Given such cultural conditions, the Christian celebration of “the blessed Pentecost” will strike many as mad indeed. Fifty days of “dwelling in” the paschal mystery! Fifty days of surrendering in joyful faith and love as the Spirit of God takes possession of our lives! Fifty days of mystagogy, of walking with neophytes ever more deeply into the baptismal mysteries of death and resurrection. Good heavens! What an order! One reason why such prolonged celebration strikes us as difficult—if not downright absurd—is that we tend to link feasts and holidays with mindless hoopla. “Party time” for many, is an invitation to obliterate consciousness, to get wasted, to veg out, to forget. But a season of Christian festival is precisely the opposite. It is a time of intensified consciousness, finely tuned awareness, awakened memory. The great fifty days of Pentecost are not an unwelcome, unrealistic, obligation to “party on,” even if we don’t feel like it, but an invitation to explore more deeply “the weather of the heart,” to awaken our memory of God’s presence and power in our lives, to look more closely at all the rich and varied textures of creation. In short Pentecost is a season for learning how to say yes in a culture that wants us to keep on saying no.

“To celebrate Easter is to believe once more that God constantly breaks into our personal histories, challenging our “conventions”, those fixed ways of thinking and acting that end up paralyzing us. To celebrate Easter is to allow Jesus to triumph over the craven fear that so often assails us and tries to bury every kind of hope. The stone before the tomb shared in this, the women of the Gospel shared in this, and now the invitation is addressed once more to you and to me. An invitation to break out of our routines and to renew our lives, our decisions and our existence. An invitation that must be directed to where we stand, what we are doing and what we are, with the “power ratio” that is ours. Do we want to share in this message of life, or do we prefer simply to continue standing speechless before events as they happen?”

Pope Francis, Homily Easter Vigil, 2018

This Easter Vigil, St. Luke welcomed into the Church and our parish family, 4 wonderful people: Hannah, Rachael, Madison & Kevin. It is their pictures which are on the table in the Narthex. They were prepared by our RCIA Team: Gerri Green, Joan Daly, Theresa Dougherty & Kathleen Muzzio and we ask that you continue to pray for them as they grow in faith. On Holy Thursday, 2 outstanding women were called to the Lord’s Table for the first time: Luci & Nicole. Both will join several others in receiving the Sacrament of Confirmation on Pentecost under the guidance of RCIA Team Members including Marie Sidoti.

Easter is not just a single Sunday. Easter is the greatest celebration of our faith. Easter is celebrated in the Church until the Feast of Pentecost, this year, May 20th. The Easter Season is 50 days long. You will notice our Paschal Candle burning in the Sanctuary throughout Easter. It is a reminder that we have received the Light of Christ. And as we are fed at His table that light should grow brighter and we are to bring it into this world which is desperate for His Peace.

6 women and men, saw Christ’s light and began/continued their journey in faith. They broke out of their routines and stood up and said “I want to be Catholic”. They have been given the light. So have each one of us. What do you do with that light? Is it hidden under a bushel? Does it shine brightly in all that you do?

Support Group For Newly Bereaved

Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted. Mt 5:4

When someone we love has been taken from us, we often find ourselves dealing with change and transition. Many offer their help, but do not always understand the loss we are feeling. Bereavement support groups are one way to find support from others who are going through the same process. We cannot go around, over, or under the grief process. We need to go through it; we need to be good to ourselves, putting balance into our lives through prayer, reading, resting, relaxation, and work. Grief takes time. Unrealistic expectations undermine the healing process.

The Parish of St. Luke Church is sponsoring a Bereavement Support Group for the newly bereaved. You need not be a parishioner to attend. The group will meet on Thursday evenings from 7:00 - 8:30 pm in the Conference Room for nine consecutive weeks, beginning on Thursday, April 19 and ending on June 14, 2018. Pre-registration is required. Please call the Bereavement office at 848-226-6220 and leave your name and number. We will call you back.

This Week's Senior Moment

"For elderly adults, religion hopefully ceases being only a series of rites and rituals and rules to be followed for which one gets some kind of eternal points. Religion hopefully becomes what it was always intended to be: the means to build a growing relationship with the Spirit Who draws us onward."

St. Vincent de Paul Society stlukeconference.org

Today is Orthodox Easter as celebrated by the Byzantine Catholic and Eastern Rite Christian churches who also have a long tradition of caring for the poor. "We must, then, open our hearts to all the poor and to all those who are in distress from whatever cause, for the commandment enjoins us "to rejoice with those who rejoice and weep with those who weep" (Rom 12:15)...Thus ought we ever to exercise hospitality by our own personal exertions, that we may be sanctified, and our hands be blessed. And if you give to the poor, disdain not yourself to give it, for it is not to the poor that it is given, but to Christ; and who is so wretched, as to disdain to stretch out his own hand to Christ? This is hospitality, this is truly to do it for God's sake. - St. Gregory Nazianzus "On the Love of the Poor."
